I am pleased to recognize the 27th anniversary of Falun Dafa, a long-standing practice based on promoting harmony and health in society.

While Canada fosters an open society and sees strength in diversity, not all parts of the world where Falun Dafa is practiced share those values.

China in particular has brutally repressed practitioners of Falun Dafa. I was pleased to support bill S-240; a bill that condemns and protects against the heinous practice of involuntary organ transplants.

I look forward to the day when those who choose to practice Falun Dafa may do so anywhere in the world without fear of prosecution.

Yours truly,

Daniel Blaikie, MP
