Greeting on the 27th anniversary of the introduction of Falun Dafa

I wish all those that choose practice the spiritual tradition of Falun Dafa a joyous 27th anniversary and celebration of Falun Dafa Day on Parliament Hill!

The practice of Falun Dafa is one of meditation and peace, where practitioners exercise a moral philosophy centered on the tenets of truthfulness, compassion, and forbearance.

I am proud to stand with Falun Dafa practitioners as they continue to fight for their basic human rights from the communist dictatorship in China. I was able to present petitions in the House of Commons this month calling on the current government to use the Sergei Magnitsky Law to place sanctions on those who have perpetrated ongoing oppression and violence including the abhorrent practice of organ harvesting from members of the Falun Dafa.

Together, we look forward to a future where Falun Dafa can be practiced freely and without persecution. I wish you a happy Falun Dafa Day and a joyous month of celebration!
